

UNION CARPENTERS ARE STILL OUT

They Insist on Nine Hours' Work Before Returning to Duty.

THE CONTRACTORS' VIEWS

One Contractor Declares That Even Now Carpenters Make More Money Out of Jobs Than the Contractor. Another Gives Views of the Union.

Seven days have passed, and still there are no new developments in the carpenters' and joiners' strike. The mechanics are still determined to hold out for the nine-hour day, while the contractors have been resting easily, because of the fact that the weather has been exceptionally bad, and the workmen would have been compelled to have laid off anyway. The contractors seem to feel confident that the carpenters and joiners will become tired of loafing, for the fish are biting slowly at this time, and the hunting season is not on. The gardens are not growing, hence there is no cultivating to do, and the average carpenter is so industrious that he will not be content to "lay around" and do nothing. "These fellows talk about being poorly paid," said one contractor. "They are receiving all the salary we can afford to pay them, according to prevailing prices, and in fact, in the end, the carpenter is making more money out of a job than we are, and has no responsibility beyond the work he is expected to do."

Another contractor, who is disposed to be fair, declares that he has no objection to granting the concession of nine hours if the union men are willing to classify the workmen. "Why, there are all sorts of carpenters, just like there are all sorts of every other kind of mechanics," he declared. "The trouble is that when a carpenter joins the union he is received differently from any other class of mechanic; the inferior workman is taken in and harbored by the union on the same plane as a thoroughly competent man, and expects the same salary or the same benefits. There are all kinds of carpenters in the world, and the union has its share of the diversity. The union does not seem to regard efficiency, but will take any man who professes to be a mechanic and has a good enough eye to saw a board reasonably true.

"I do not object to employing union men—in fact I prefer to give them the preference," continued this contractor. "I am willing to grant the nine-hour day, but I do insist that the union classify its men and let them draw wages in proportion to their ability." It is difficult to determine at this time just how this strike will end. A number of union carpenters are employed on jobs which have been working nine hours, but there are many others out, and they declare they will remain out until the concession of a nine-hour day is granted.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send five cent stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ALACHUA'S FIRST SALE.

It Was Shipped to Savannah Monday by Charles A. Williams.

Alachua, Aug. 8.—Charles A. Williams, Alachua's leading cotton buyer, today shipped to Savannah, Georgia, the first bale of Sea Island cotton, supposed to have been shipped from Florida. The bale was ginned Monday by W. C. Rives & Son. Mr. Williams offered five cents per pound for seed cotton for ten days, which offer is out on the 9th. He is in the cotton business to stay and will make things lively this fall. His fall goods are arriving daily and, assisted by W. V. Roberts, is fitting up one of the finest first-class hardware stores to be found in the State. In addition to hardware, he will carry a complete line of buggies and wagons, coffins and caskets.

Given Up to Die.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run-down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good, and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Attention, Voters.

A Palatka girl, says The Times-Herald, gets up in the morning, eats breakfast which her mother prepared, goes up stairs and takes care of her room and then goes down town, sometimes taking two hours to buy a spool of thread. She eats dinner which her mother has prepared, wears clothes her mother has made, spends the afternoon reading old, silly love novels or gadding about with her friends, eats supper her mother has prepared and spends the evening with her dear friends. She has done nothing wicked all day and her mother is satisfied that she is bringing her up right.

Editor Avery G. Powell of The Lake Butler Star has a unique way of tiding himself and paper through the dull summer months. He is a writer of popular songs and has put a number on the market this year. He says that composing pays better than newspaper work and that he is going to branch off into this work entirely in the near future. Among his latest compositions are: "The Return of the Flag," "I Won Her Heart With My Automobile" and "My Sweetheart From Mars." These songs are now being published in New York and we have no doubt but they will net Mr. Powell a neat little sum.

A GREAT EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT!

A Magnificent Library Worth $500 Offered Free of Cost!

Unprecedented Offer that Promises to Prove Unusually Interesting.

Something SUN Readers Shoud Consider

Read the Following Details Carefully:

The Mystery Surrounding the Beautiful Display in G. W. HYDE'S Window Revealed in the following:

A number of our enterprising merchants have arranged what will prove to be a most interesting contest between the High School, Twentieth Century Club, Odd Fellows' Home, B. P. O. Elks, Volunteer Firemen, Masons, W. O. W., K. of P., Gainesville Guards, Kirby Smith Chapter or J. J. Finley Chapter of the U. D. C., or any church, Sunday school, hospital organization or institution you would wish to own the beautiful library valued at $500, now on display at G. W. Hyde's.

THE REWARD will be a magnificent library, consisting of 200 volumes of the standard subscription publications of the day as follows: The Great Chas. Dudley Warner "Library of the World's Best Literature," 46 volumes; "Library of the World's Greatest Classics," 30 volumes; the Anglo-American Dictionary and Cyclopaedia, 12 volumes; Library of Oratory, by Depew, 15 volumes; Works of Balzac, 36 volumes; the Library of Poets, 32 volumes; the World's Best Essays, 10 volumes; History of Our Great Commanders, 12 volumes.

Each and every one of these books are specimens of the best mechanical execution, which examination will prove.

The conditions of the contest are as follows: Any lodge, church, school, club, hospital or organization, public or private, is eligible to the contest. Votes for individuals will not be counted. With each 10 cents purchase a ticket will be given by the merchants through whose liberality these grand libraries are furnished, on which will be written the amount of the purchase and the number of votes. The purchaser will write on the ticket the institution or organization for which he or she desires to vote, sign their names and deposit the ticket in the ballot box in the store in which the purchase is made.

The standing of the contestants will be published exclusively in each Sunday's issue of The Sun until October 14th, 1905, at 7 o'clock p. m., when the remaining votes will be counted, and the magnificent library awarded to the organization having the largest number of votes. The Sun will publish in each issue a coupon which will entitle the holder to two votes that will be credited to the institution that is written on space provided for same when delivered to the ballot boxes in either of the stores.
